Community and Stakeholder Engagement

Its all about trust.

Project success is greatly enhanced when key stakeholders are identified and engaged from project inception. EAS applies a risk-based methodology to identify and prioritise key stakeholders and develop an approach targetted to their needs, wants and desires. We believe that early and genuine engagement maximises project success and minimises downside risk.

Our humanistic and pragmatic style enables us to identify and build relationships with the key influencers for your project. We develop and implement communication channels that are timely, appropriate and customised for the stakeholder group.

We will be there for our clients to share in project success, and provide calm leadership in times of crisis.

We can assist you with:

- Stakeholder mapping
- Project risk review
- Regulatory engagement
- Government liaison
- Media strategy and execution
- Union engagement
- Community engagement
- Board engagement
- Supplier management
- Crisis management

Our client sectors include:

- Construction and demolition
- Power generation
- Mines and quarries
- Industrial processing
- Rail infrastructure and operations
- Consultancies
- Regulatory bodies
